"Y" Is Fully Represented at The State Athletic Conference

WINNERS OF EVENTS IN UTAH STATE MEET WILL GO TO COLO.

Final Arrangements Are Made For Remaining Activities of Year.

The "Y" was fully represented at a recent sport meeting in Salt Lake. The Director of the Coach the Manager of Athletics. Final arrangements were made for the remaining activities of this year, including baseball, tennis and track and field.

The following schedule was drawn for the track and field meets:

April 29, at Cummings field in Salt Lake, a dual meet will be staged between the University of Utah and the Utah Agricultural college track teams; May 2, a dual meet at Salt Lake is headed between the University of Utah and the B. Y. U. teams; May 13 the state intercollegiate track and field meet will be held at Provo, which the University of Utah, the Utah Agricultural College and the Brigham Young University will all participate.

WINNERS GO TO COLORADO.

The winners of events in the Utah state intercollegiate meet will be sent to Fort Collins, Colo., to enter the Rocky Mountain Conference meet which will be held May 20. The order of events in the Rocky Mountain meet will be exactly the same as in the order of events in the Utah state collegiate meets. Preliminaries will be run off in the morning and in the afternoon the finals will take place. Each team will have some athletes missing in two or more preliminary events, so the afternoon is set to run off the finals, in order that the men may rest after any strenuous heat in the morning.

The following officials were selected for the Utah state intercollegiate track and field meet: Referee, Homer Christensen; starter, Lee Simmons; judges, Warnick, chief, Peterson, Vest, Greening, Wood, Merrill, Messers, Grimmer, Louise, Haymond, Edshish, Temmerman; Judges of the dish, Holmsted, Mitchell, Peterson, Tucker; clerks of course, Clark, Anderson and Webb; inspectors, Vest, Marshall, Holt; scorers, Kier, Sauls.

BOXING AND WRESTLING.

Boxing and wrestling were favorably mentioned. It was decided that boxing and wrestling meet would be held at the Utah Agricultural College in May, providing, of course, that the plan was agreeable to the facilities of the three schools.

Those present at the meeting were Thomas Fitzpatrick and Lee Prouse of the University of Utah; Coach Dick Romney of the U. A. C.; and Coach Alvin Twitchell, Eugene Roach and Manager Tolboe of the "Y".

Dixon Offers Tenn's Award

To the winner of the tennis tournament which is to be held within the next few weeks will be given a silver cup, awarded by "Abe" Dixon. Any student is eligible to participate.

The courts are now ready for use and it is urged by the club officers that membership cards be obtained. Possession of a tennis card entitles every student to the use of the courts. They may be obtained from any of the officers for one dollar.

Already there is considerable enthusiasm being displayed by the tennis fiends and the outlook for a successful year is bright.

DELMAR DICKSON BECOMES WINNER OF VIOLIN CONTEST

Contest Is Interesting; Each Plays "Sousenit," and a Selection of Own Choosing

Delmar Dickson became the honored possessor of the Adams' Gold Medal awarded by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Adams to the winner in the Violin contest, held in College Hall Friday evening.

The contest was unusually interesting. Each contestant played "Sousenit" by Franz Drda, and a selection of his own choosing.

Delmar Dickson, first contestant, selected "Second Mazurka" by Henri Wieniawski; Florence Friday, second, selected "Bluebells of Scotland" by Henri Farmer; Vivian Bentley, third, selected "Cavatina" by Joachim Raff. All numbers rendered displayed the talent and careful preparation of the students, making the contest especially entertaining and educational.

The players ranked in the decision of the judges in the order of their playing, Delmar Dickson, first place; Florence Friday, second and Vivian Bentley, third.

Mary Wooley Dramatic Reading Contest

A new contest is being initiated into the school this year which is called, "The Mary Wooley Dramatic Reading Contest." It will consist of numerous dramatic readings. The date set is April 21st.

The instigator of this contest is Mary Wooley a graduate of last year, who has for her purpose the stimulation of interest in dramatic art.

Interclass Debating Begins

The preliminary debates of the interclass series will be held today at 3:30 p. m. The question of debate is: Resolved, that a soldier bonus should be granted as proposed by congress.

The Freshman affirmative team, consisting of Burr, Daggfield and Masee; will debate the Sophomore negative representatives, Dean, Stark and Maw.

Messers Lambert, Stott and Sprowl of the Junior affirmative will meet the Senior negative team of which Swenson, Minnie Finley and Harrison are representatives.

The winning team will meet in a final contest on April 6th, at 8 p. m. in College Hall. Each member of the winning team will be awarded a beautiful gold medal.

Those who wish to attend the preliminary debates should watch the bulletin boards today as announcement of rooms will be posted there.

FOOL'S NUMBER OF "Y's GUY"

Next Friday at noon the All Fools' number of "The Y's Guy" will greet the students. It is no ordinary event in any instance, for a wise guy to turn foolish; but in addition to this, readers are promised an extra thrill by the fearless exposure of the ravages of Spring Fever.

The issue will be especially strong in its art department. It is a very costly matter to have the magazine so profusely illustrated, but the staff has thrown caution to the winds and decided that there is no time like the present to be young and foolish. Incidentally, the number will be a fitting forerunner of "Aunt" Alice's birthday.

DR. FLETCHER LECTURES BEFORE "Y" SCIENCE CLUB

"Sound" was the subject of a lecture delivered before the B. Y. U. Science Club on Wednesday evening by Dr. Harvey Fletcher. For three years Dr. Fletcher has had charge of a force of thirty men who have been performing experiments in the American Telephone company laboratory in New York City. Some of the results of these experiments were given to his auditors. The easiest sounds to make, the doctor said, are "ow," "m" and "ng," and the most difficult, "v," "f," and "th." The last three account for 50 per cent of the errors in pronunciation made in English speech. As a result of the ex-

"Y" DEBATERS WILL BATTLE AGAINST U. OF SOUTHERN CAL.

Question Is: Resolved That a Court of Industrial Relations Be Adopted By the Several States.

The "Y" debaters will battle for victory against the University of Southern California, Tuesday at 9 p. m., April 4th in College Hall. In two previous encounters with the Californians the honors have been divided, each school winning one debate. This encounter promises to be unsurpassed for keen debating. The question to be debated is, "Resolved: that a court of industrial relations for the judicial settlement of labor disputes should be adopted by the several states. The "Y" will uphold the negative.

This subject has been chosen because of its national importance. Many state legislatures are discussing the problem. Special interest in the question is given by the impending coal strike, scheduled for April 1st.

The "Y" will be represented by Edwin Baird and H. E. Harter. Edwin Baird, the first speaker, has qualifications that make his friends confident. He debated for the B. Y. U. in 1917 against the Dixie Normal College; he was captain of the "Y" team that defeated the U. A. C. this year and thus helped to bring the state debating championship to the "Y".

E. H. Harter, this year's debating manager, is well known as the man with an abundance of words; to mention his name is "ouff" said. He was a member of the Utah State High School Championship team of 1918; he helped defeat Princeton in 1920, and the U. A. C.; and in 1922 he was captain of the team that defeated the U. of U.

DRAMA CENTER

Miss Helen Candland gave the play review of "Clair De Lune" by Michael Strange. Michael Strange is the pen name of Miss Ethel Barrymore. The play was taken from Victor Hugo's story "The Man who Laughs". Ethel and John Barrymore played the leads.

This play is one of the strangest that has been reviewed but Miss Candland's report was one of the most enjoyable.

Today the life and works of Caruso will be given.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB LUNCHEON

At noon Wednesday the Home Economics girls enjoyed a delightful luncheon in the Art Gallery.

Miss Lorenda John presided. Toasts were responded to by Helen Talmage, Ora Markham, Miss Cutler and Miss Campbell. Lela Maudsley entertained with two readings. Violet Johnson led in group singing. Gertrude Olsen accompanied.

Business reports were given on the club pins and on a conjoint party to be given with the Agricultural Club.

U. OF U. SWIMMING TEAM DEFEATS B. Y. U. AND AGGIES

The Swimmers Feel Elated Because All Came Through Without Drowning.

The University of Utah Swimming team easily defeated both the Aggies and our own swimmers in the intercollegiate swimming contest held in the Deseret gymnasium Saturday night. Although the Young University took third place the swimmers feel very elated in the fact that all came through without drowning.

Notwithstanding the events had been changed without notifying the B. Y. U., a compromise was made and all races except the 80 yard and 100 yard free style, were entered by the "Y". First and second places in every race except the 40 yard dash were taken by the "U"; Quinney of the A. C. took first in this race. Third places in the 60 yard breast stroke, 60 yard back stroke, and the relay were scored by the Young swimmers.

After the first splash it was plainly evident that the "Y" paddlers lacked coaching and perhaps training. At least one race was lost because of the slow getaways made by the B. Y. U. representatives. Nevertheless the swimmers feel that they learned a great deal about the fine points of the game and that next time with more coaching and practice, they can put up a better showing.

During the intermissions the girls from the "U" and the A. C. gave exhibitions of fancy diving and swimming strokes. Parley Larsen of the Aggies also made several unsuccessful attempts to set a new state record in the plunge for distance. Henry Orton from the "U" gave a diving exhibition that was received with much applause.

The points scored and summary are as follows:

U. of U. 49
A. C. U. 11

Professor Osmond To Give Recital

Professor Alfred Osmond will give a Shakespearean Recital in College Hall tonight at 8 o'clock. He has given several in northern Utah and southern Idaho quite recently, and has been well received wherever he has been. From the testimony of those who have heard him, the students have a professional treat awaiting them.

The California team will come fully prepared; they will have debated the question with seven universities before they reach Provo. The "Y" men are aware of this fact and are sparing no efforts to equip themselves for the occasion.

SPANISH CLUB

Professor Cummings entertained the Spanish Club at his home Thursday evening. A good program including Spanish games was enjoyed. Officers for the remainder of the year were elected. They are: President, Richard Harris; Vice President, Mildred Young; Secretary, Alma McElrath.

Mrs. Cummings served delicious refreshments.

Problems are Discussed In Serial Lectures

Elder Stephen L. Richards of the Quorum of the Twelve and a member of the Church Commission of Education will deliver a lecture on "Social and Financial Problems" at the special lecture period on Wednesday.

The first of a series was given Wednesday on the subject of "Business and the Law".

Elder Richards showed the great dependence of business on a stable and reliable government. He pointed out the close connection between business and the law. "The law," he said is the foundation for the acquisition, retention, and transfer of property. He also gave a general review of the different kinds of law.

He will speak next Wednesday on "The Creations of Law as They Effect Business."

PRESIDENTS TO CALL CLASS ROLLS, 9:30 A. M., ON MT. SIDE

Co-eds Will Serve "Chow" On Campus After Work Is Done.

Preparations for whitewashing the "Y" have been completed and everything is in readiness to make the annual "Y" day a success. Tomorrow promptly at 9:30 a. m. the rolls of the various classes will be called on the mountain and work will begin. Following the "Y's" annual bath, the co-eds will serve "chow" on the university campus. The "Y" Day Ball will be held Thursday night.

According to president Olpin, it is the duty of the High school students and Freshmen to bring buckets for the purpose of carrying water; the Sophomores are to bring hoes and shovels to mix the "mud"; the Juniors are also required to bring buckets to carry the whitewash; the dignified Seniors will be expected on the scene with brooms and towels to spread it; and the faculty will undoubtedly clear the "Y" and the trail of brush with their pruning hooks and clippers.

At the foot of the mountain each person will be supplied with twenty or thirty pounds of lime or cement. This may be carried in either buckets or sacks. If a person does not have a sack with him he will be able to procure one at the lime pile by depositing twenty-five cents which will be refunded on the return of the sack.

The rolls will be checked promptly at 9:30 a. m. and again at the completion of the work. The position of roll call will be as follows: first and second years, upper south corner of the "Y"; third and fourth years, upper north corner; unclassified students, south center; Freshmen, north center; Juniors and Seniors, lower south corner; Sophomores, lower north corner.

Those who fail to assist in the work on the "Y", ie, those absent, and loafers, will be reported by a committee of "spotters," and tried by a special court before dinner is served. Those who have legitimate excuses are asked to hand them to the presidents of their respective classes.

From all indications the enthusiasm is increasing daily and if the weather permits, a most successful day is assured.

Pageants Given Wide Distribution

Three pageants written by Professor E. H. Eastmond have been distributed to all the wards of Utah stake and some wards in other stakes. The pageants have complete instructions for their production and are suitable for use by ward organizations. One is a song pageant built around the theme of the L. D. S. hymn, "Come, Come Ye Saints." "The Key of Advancement" is a song pageant of charity, founded on the hymn, "O, Blest Was the Day." The other composition is entitled, "The Coming of the Nations," and is a "sermon pageant," centering around the theme of the gathering of Israel, as prophesied by the ancient prophets. The distribution of the pamphlets is under the auspices of the B. Y. U. extension division.

Cast for "The Country Boy" is Working

The cast for "The Country Boy," the last college play of the year is working enthusiastically and is eager for its performance. Because of the fact that Russell Robertson has been called on a mission, the role of Hezekiah Jinks has been given to Harold Bentley.

Students are to keep in mind that the play will be produced the second week in April.

A REPUTED BASEBALL "AGREEMENT"

Last Friday's "Chronicle" sallied forth teeming with invectives for the B. Y. U. because of our recalcitrance to an agreement for a state series of baseball—an agreement, be it known, the B. Y. U. representatives never made. The gallants responsible for the chivalrous articles have obviously forgotten "the Gentleman's Agreement" formulated by the presidents and the athletic directors of the three Utah schools a few years ago, in which each party pledged himself to keep aloof from petty press-squabbles.

The B. Y. U. representative never at any time said that the B. Y. U. would participate in a state series of baseball this season. While the representatives of the three schools were en route to Colorado last December, Director Roberts was asked about a baseball series for this spring, to which query the director announced that the B. Y. U. athletic council had not accepted it for this season. When the other representatives requested Director Roberts to have the matter reconsidered by the "Y" athletic council, he promised to have them take the question up again, stating that a final reply would be given at the athletic conference in March. This was done and the Utah schools were informed that the B. Y. U. could not finance baseball this spring.

Intercollegiate baseball has not been regular for the last fifteen years, but it is interesting to note that the B. Y. U. has not been alone in abandoning the sport in the past. In 1916-17, after the B. Y. U. had taken the state championship the two previous years, and still had a superb nine in tact, the U. of U. in conjunction with the U. A. C. and the B. Y. C. did away with intercollegiate baseball. When the B. Y. U. requested that the athletic councils of the other schools reconsider the sport, Dr. H. Leo Marshall of the U. of U. said he thought there was little use, since the game was unable to draw student support.

It is worth while to note that Coach Fitzpatrick demurs any responsibility for the "Chronicle's" blatant array; he says he hasn't control over the college press and cannot be held to account for its columns. This was made clear to Director Roberts, Coach Twitchell and Manager Tolboe last Saturday.

A mighty pen appears to have taken upon itself the super-human task of steadying a tottering athletic department, by the weak method of attempting to sully the record of the school that has been largely responsible for the department's tottering.

It is hoped that hereafter the paper representing such a great institution as the University of Utah will discard its junior-high-school attitude and develop a genuine college atmosphere in its relationship with its peers.

B. Y. U. STANDARDS

B. Y. U. graduates prove as adequately prepared to enter post-graduate schools as those of any other colleges. "I found that my college training had been as good as that of any of my contemporaries," said Dr. Harvey Fletcher, when speaking of his work in a post-graduate school. The "Y" graduates who have gone to eastern schools have made enviable records.

While the fact that private schools must maintain more rigid requirements than those of the state in order to secure the same recognition may be slightly responsible for the B. Y. U. standards, "Y" ideals have been the important factor. Temperate, continent living makes for efficiency.

During the autumn quarter we, students, adopted resolutions to the effect that we would shun places of ill-repute and refrain from the use of tobacco. The resolutions are still ours to carry out. We can best perpetuate B. Y. U. ideals.

ARE THEY TRYING TO ALLURE?

Is it a desire to allure the opposite sex the motive that causes the girls to try to make themselves appear prim and ornate? Is it a wish to entice men that makes them want nice clothes? A few evidently think that the brain of woman is incessantly inventing artifice to attract man. What a fruitful field the subject furnishes our modern journalist! There is, however, little justification back of all this carping. The reproach due the few extreme coquets is heaped upon girls in general.

Not long ago it was customary for men to adorn themselves more extravagantly than our modern girls; and no one ventures to say that their motive for so-doing was a desire to delude the women.

It is inherent personal pride that actuates the girls to ornateness in their dress; and personal pride is responsible, to a great extent, for the progress of the white race. He who don't care how he looks don't care what he does.

CLEAN CITY MOVEMENT

The "clean-up committee" of the Chamber of Commerce has been organized to survey the entire city and make plans to clean all unsightly places. This is an alert-to-the-minute movement and Provo will profit by it during the tourist season.

As shown by the thorough cleaning our campus is receiving, the B. Y. U. is heartily in sympathy with this beautiful-city movement. Clean premises show industry and the News suggests that all university students express themselves favorable to this move by raking and burning the trash about the houses in which they live.

The Burning Vision

Breathes there a man with hair so red
Who proudly to himself hath said,
"This is my own, my cherished thatch
Wherein wild Vermin choose to hatch
And there to live a peaceful glee Forgetting the while that they trouble me."

"Hair so rare, with streaming trace
Across my freckled sunburned face
Has kept my soul in comfort warm
How'er severe the winter's storm.
No mirror than mine can such beauties show;
A rival of hell with my ruddy glow!"

Show me the man with hair so red
Who to himself these things has said.
For to this creature I would go
To him my gorgeous self I'd show,
And let him his opinion pass
As to which, if either, was the greater ass.

DR. MARTIN—PRES. GRAY

Dr. T. L. Martin, in a hurry to reach Fillmore, had his chauffeur start over the road, between Delta and Fillmore, which has not yet been approved. When they reached the bars the protectors positively refused to lower them, stating that President Gray, of the Union Pacific Road had not yet been down to approve it. As Dr. Martin felt the necessity of reaching his destination immediately he assumed the responsibility of being President Gray. His scheme worked successfully, he passed over the road, and reached Fillmore on time.

Beth—Mrs. Basset don't be surprised if I come running through the calling in my sleep. Twice last night I jumped out of bed and run into the other room because I thought someone was calling me.

Vera—Who did you think was calling you?
Beth—Oh, go on.

"What's that? Home-brew?" asked a curious one as his roommate returning from a date lifted a bottle to his lips.

"Nope. Paint remover," gurgled the other.—Octopus.

Grace—I want a husband who is easily pleased.

Elizabeth—That's the kind you'll

FRESHIE—Did you hear Dean
Merrill's address this morning?

Soph—No, but you can find it in the phone book.

Frosh to Senior—There is a certain boy in school whom I just adore.
But he is a Junior and never notices me. What can I do to make him notice me?

Senior—The only thing to do is to wait until you grow. You might try stretching.

Bright Freshie—What's the orchestra playing now?

Senior—Don't know. Why do you ask?

Bright Freshie—Well, I thought it was a lullaby. My foot's gone to sleep.

Upon a tomb stone in a nearby cemetery is the following epitaph:

held for Camilla Maeser, Friday at 2 o'clock in the Fourth Ward Chapel,
Bishop A. L. Booth presided.

Some beautiful musical selections were furnished by the B. Y. U. Music department. Three numbers were artistically rendered by a mixed double quartette. The vocal solos of Ethelyn Hodson and Professor Franklin Madsen and the violin solo, "Ave Maria," played by Glen Van Wagenen were much enjoyed.

Professors H. R. Clark, H. V. Hoyt,
William H. Boyle, Bishop A. L.
Booth and President George H.
Brimhall spoke of Miss Maeser's many virtues.

"She did more than I asked her to," President Brimhall said, speaking of his relation to her as his private secretary. "Sincerity marked her speech and action." Miss Maeser will be missed by her many school friends.

Luther Eggertsen
Addresses Assembly

"The Latter Day Saint Church holds the seed of the spiritual and moral regeneration of the world," said Luther E. Eggertsen, an alumnus of the institution, in devotional exercise Monday. Mr. Eggertsen is working for his doctor's degree in Business Administration at the University of Southern California, and is in Provo for a short time.

"There isn't a problem of any kind that isn't centered in wealth, this reckless quest for money. Everything is cast to the side to make way for the grab for gold. What the world needs is spiritual and moral regeneration. The call to this institution is to turn out leaders with L.
D. S. ideals."

Timpanogos Trail Christening Hike To Be Held In July

The Eleventh Annual Timpanogos Hike will take place during the last week of July. The big outing will be called the "Trail Christening Hike," since the new government trail from Aspen Grove to the top of the mountain will be finished in time for the climb, and it is desired to name the trail on this occasion. A substantial prize of at least $5 will be offered to the person suggesting the most appropriate name for the beautiful waterfall route to the top. Unusual preparations are being made to have the eleventh hike a feature worth traveling across the continent to participate in. While the B. Y. U. hiking clubs will necessarily form the nucleus and organizing unit for the big affair, as they have always been since its beginning, arrangements are being made to make the celebration more cooperative than it has ever been. Provo City, Utah county and all nature loving communities and people of the state and west will be asked to help conduct the climb.

MANY INVITED.

Among the organizations which will be invited to join the Trail Christening hike as guests are the University of Utah Hiking clubs, the Wasatch Climbing club of Salt Lake City, the Utah Agricultural College hiking club, the Utah Outdoor association of Salt Lake City and the various high school outdoor organizations. As special out-of-state guests will be a small detachment of the Seattle Mountaineers under the leadership of J. T. Hazard.

The entertaining features at Aspen Grove during the three days' outing will embrace bonfire programs, nature-dancing exhibitions, open air dramas, and an opera under the direction of Miss Florence Jepsen of the Music department. In order to properly stage this opera a Greek theatre will be constructed in the ten acre grove presented to the B. Y. U. last summer by the North Fork company. This beautiful grove covers a side hill which happens to be so configured naturally that a monster Greek theatre can be built with a moderate outlay.

EXCURSION PLANNED.

The program of hikes will also include excursions into American Fork Canyon, visit to the famous Timpanogos caves, a side climb to the Roosevelt cascades, and an automobile pilgrimage through the towns lake resorts and fruit belts of Utah county. All these various side trips and excursions will be under the direction of competent guides, and everything possible will be done to bring the hikers in contact with all the beauties of the wonderful Timpanogos environment. The Tenth Annual Timpanogos Hike held last summer bears the distinction of being the largest affair of its kind ever held in America. Six hundred and fifty people formed one hiking line up the mountain side and there were 1200 enthusiasts who participated in the Aspen Grove festivities. The eleventh hike promises to make even a greater record than the tenth, since the new trail will make climbing easy for all hikers and will bring them in contact with numerous waterfalls and other scenic attractions which were not accessible over the old route.

Seniors To Have Distinctive Dress

That all seniors are to adopt uniform dress to be worn on three mornings of each week, was decided at a meeting of the class members Friday. The girls are to appear at the tri-weekly assembly with white cuffs and collars and the men will wear white trousers. Distinctive costume for seniors is in vogue in many colleges.

Dr. Fletcher Lectures On Telephone System

Dr. Harvey Fletcher, an alumnus and former professor of this institution and one of the most noted men ever turned out by the state of Utah, will lecture to the Student Body Friday on "Telephones."

Before starting on his subject, Dr. Fletcher made note of the fact that during all his study and work in the East, he had never been embarrassed or handicapped by his training at the B. Y. U. or by the fact that he was a Mormon. In fact, he said, these things had sometimes brought him into prominence.

Dr. Fletcher gave some very interesting and instructive facts upon the invention, development and growth of the telephone. Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone while studying how to teach deaf mutes. With the first telephone the inventors had to shout in order to be heard from the basement up into the dining room of the inventor's house. Now voices can be heard across the continent.

Ten years after the invention in 1876 there were only 100,000 telephones in the United States, now there are 13,500,000 or one to about every eight persons. Two-thirds of the telephones in the world are in the United States.

Two important problems faced the telephone before it could be developed to any great extent. The first was the transmission of sound from one person to another. It was found that the sound leaked off the wires in traveling any considerable distance. At last amplifiers were developed, which magnified the sound without in anyway changing it.

The other problem was to connect two individuals wishing to talk to each other. This has been solved by the switch boards. And now automatic switch boards are coming into use which make connections without the use of an operator.

Dr. Fletcher says that wireless will never take the place of the telephone although it has important functions.

The music for the assembly was furnished by the Ladies' Chorus and Miss Margaret Dunsbury.

Election Enthusiasm Is Already Manifest

Election enthusiasm is already being manifest among the students. And there is much talk of prospective candidates for student body officers for next year.

Especially in the case of Student Body President is La Von Billings, a "Y" student through and through, and manager of Dramatics for the past two years.

Hyrum Harter, one of our star debaters and manager of forensic activities is receiving favorable comment for the office.

Another prospective candidate is Wayne Mayhew, present second vice president of the student body, and also assistant teacher in the book-keeping department.

Richard Condit too is being spoken of, he is known as being one of the best "Y" debaters and soloists, he also won second place in the popularity contest.

"Hal" Bentley also is being mentioned, he is an expert swimmer, editor of athletics of "The Y News" and winner of the special Student Body Medal.

Beth Boyack, Virginia Christensen, Celestia Johnson, Anna Eggertsen, and Maud Dixon are some of the promising candidates for vice president.

Although definite plans for the election have not yet been given out a new constitution has been prepared and plans for its consideration are under way.

The winner will receive a handsome medal given by Mr. Heber Jex an alumnus of the school.

The date for the contest has not been definitely decided; but it will be held within a month. Subjects are optional and students are urged to participate in it.

Present European Conditions Topic Of Lyceum Course

A more scholarly and eloquent lecture has scarcely been heard in this city than that delivered Wednesday evening in College Hall by Dr. Edward A. Steiner, imminent authority on social and economical problems. Dr. Steiner, who has recently returned from an extended visit in Europe, drew a vivid picture of present European conditions in his address on "The Mind of Europe." Unrest and chaos is evident everywhere in Europe," said Dr. Steiner, "and the people seem to have lost faith in the old order of things. Even in a spiritual way the people seem lost," according to the speaker. He stated that the people have never been more spiritually minded, but that they have lost faith in their old spiritual advisers. They are now looking for a religion which will function in their life and are eager to hear almost anything new to see if it is the thing for which they are seeking.

He stated that the people are in extreme poverty and that they seem to have little faith in the future. He expressed himself as of the opinion that conditions there would not improve until the United States takes a keener interest in the problems of Europe and assists in solving them. It is impossible for the United States to stand aloof and refuse to "meddle" in European affairs. The sooner this government recognizes its duty in this regard, said Dr. Steiner, the sooner will the world come into its own again and the people of Europe take a brighter aspect for the future.

Time and again the large audience showed its appreciation of the splendid lecture which was the last number on the Lyceum course of the Brigham Young University.

Five Men To Comprise Tennis Team

In accordance with the understanding reached at the official meeting of athletic representatives of the Utah Colleges, the B. Y. U., along with the other schools, will increase the tennis team from three to five men.

As yet the "Y" possibilities in this activity, this season, are practically unknown. A full third of last year's team is missing. Reed Holt and Reed Gardner and a number of others will make the love game a success.

COURTS PUT INTO CONDITION.

With the breaking of the long winter season, the courts are being put into condition and preliminary practicing by the more enthusiastic is already going on.

Any and all men who have possibilities in this line are urged to come out and help the "Y" rig up their winning team. Don't hide your talent along this line.

Following is the Tennis schedule for intercollegiate meets this season: B. Y. U. vs Utah—April 28 at Provo. Utah vs A. C.—May 5, at Logan. B. Y. U. vs Utah—May 11 at Salt Lake.

B. Y. U. vs A. C.—May 15 at Provo. A. C. vs Utah—May 17 at Salt Lake. B. Y. U. vs A. C.—May 22 at Logan.

Y

No College Baseball This Season

For several seasons now the B. Y. U. has not included baseball in its roll of sport activities, and it would seem that the national game would become extinct at the "Y".

Last year, however, every hope was held out to introduce this game into this season's schedule, and revive it with renewed vigor. But as the time to play rolled around it could plainly be seen that again this year baseball would be an impossibility, due to lack of funds in the Student Body treasury. Of course it is lamentable but, we can't have everything under present conditions.

Both the University of Utah and the Agricultural College had planned to play baseball this year, but they too dropped it from the list when it was definitely known that the "Y" could not participate.

Extempore Contest Comes Friday

Friday, the extemporaneous contest will be held; it will be the biggest and best contest of the year.

"Disarmament," the general subject, is timely and has aroused much interest among the students.

The silver cup to be given is now on display in trophy hall of the college building.
